The rally committee members worked hard; they decorated the stadium; endeavored to encourage college spirit, putting on pep rallies; and they took part in various other activities. Everyone enjoyed Tabby the Cat who was a feature attraction at all sports events.

ROBERT B. JOHNSTON
Advisor

Editor Phyllis Nutter and her hard-working staff covered all events of interest and gathered them together for La Reata of 1952. Rowena Regli and Bob Steinbach assisted the editor in organizing the Activities and Sports sections of the book.

New at the job, Mr. Robert Johnston assumed the duties of advisor three weeks after the beginning of school last fall. He spent many tedious hours with the capable photographers and staff in helping to make this a fine book.

The members of La Reata staff hope this book will be a fond remembrance of your college days at Hartnell.

er sentinel

The Panther Sentinel, headed by "Bunny" Parsons, endeavored to bring to the students the news of the campus, both colossal and trivial. Despite the frequent change of sports editors and a small staff the editor carried on the traditionally fine record of the Hartnell journalism department until transferring to San Jose State at the onset of the spring quarter. Dick Johnson, the "Rajah" of the lighter-side "Campusology," took charge for the remainder of the year.

Advising the journalists was Mr. Robert Johnston in his new post. He guided the staff through the hectic hours of dirt-digging to meet the Tuesday deadline.

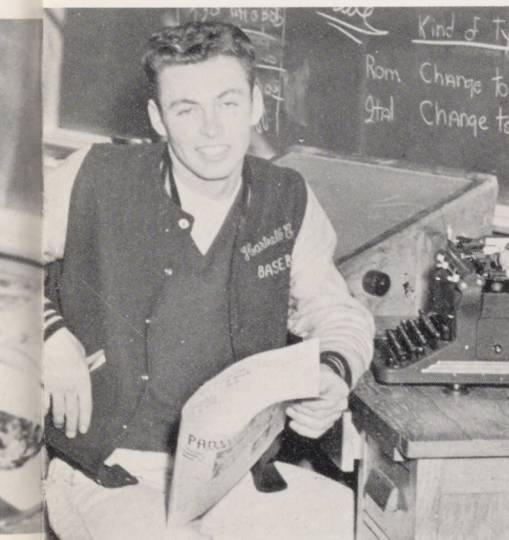

Despite a slim budget, students were seldom disappointed on Fridays when they eagerly looked forward to reading the facts in The Panther.

THE CHRISTMAS CAROL — Mr. Stan Lovett, Mr. Tom Rogers, and Mr. Richard Cimino

delta psi omega

THE TWO MRS. CARROLLS — Miss Gladys Fagundes, Miss Barbara Brem, and Mr. Stan Lovett

TAMING OF THE SHREW, by Will Shakespeare

The Hartnell College drama department produced four successful presentations during the 1951-52 season. Mr. Harold H. Ulrici was the skilled guiding hand responsible for the successful staging and direction of the shows.

With the only drama major, Tom Rogers, as a member of each cast, the players presented the mysterious Two Mrs. Carrolls; Alumnus Richard Cimino in Christmas Carol; the triumphant and hilariously big Taming of the Shrew; and the concluding comedy, with Bob Day and Myrtlerose Craig, Candlelight.

Marching Band performing at Monterey

The Marching band appeared at all home games and also for the Monterey Peninsula College - Hartnell game on Thanksgiving. Their fine spirit added much to these events as well as to student assemblies. The Concert Band headed the merchants' balloon parade, played a concert for the Red Cross drive on Main Street and gave a series of campus concerts for the Hartnell students and visiting seniors. Members are as follows: trumpets, Carl Triplett, Ronald Reaves, Pat Toney, Rogerlee Lanning, Walter Kron, and Bob Day; saxophones, Leon West, Norman Bruce Weston, Edwin Ingersoll, and Arthur Esteban; trombones, Mike McCann and Dave Haennelt; basses, Dick Gularte and Wayne Savage, oboe, Rudy Sun; bells, Marietta Lawson; piano, Oleta Mustain; horn, Kenneth Lowe; clarinets, Rudy Sun, Mariendell Lawson, Robert Azcona, Darlene Vaughn and Joyce West; percussion, Leo Lanini, Mary Florentine, LaVern Seeman, Richard Binsacca, Ricky McCann (mascot also); drum major, Joyce Blasdel; majorettes, Dona Williams, Bonnie Pilliar, Gloria Fellom, Wanda Yates, and Mary Dutra; director, Lorell McCann; and student director Bruce Weston.

Concert Band

The Hartnell College Ensemble played a wide range of beautiful music for community organizations and for the students. Featured as soloists from this group were Ramona Eris, Oleta Mustain, and Beverly Silva. Ensemble members are as follows: violins, Ramona Eris and Alfred Migotti; cello, Patricia White; saxophone, Leon West; clarinet, Joyce West, Darlene Vaughan; flute, Ted Weydell (not present); french horn, Kenneth Lowe; piano, Oleta Mustain; tympani, Robert Ascona; and viola and director, Lorell McCann.

Bach to Rodgers and Hammerstein issued forth from the throats of the Hartnell College choir. The choir was often given opportunity to sing before the student body assemblies and also for local clubs. Considerable hard work combined with talent brought well deserved acclaim from a capacity crowd of 800 gathered in the United Presbyterian Church of Salinas in December to hear the "Christmas Oratorio" by Camille Saint-Saens. The college vocal group presented the same program later at King City and Watsonville churches. In May, the director, Mr. Vahé Aslanian, took the choir to C.O.P., and also to various high schools in the area.

The Sophs win again

James Carrol Hitchcock

Ribbons, whiskers; whiskers, ribbons were the order for six weeks, until it ended on Field Day with Ken Kane, Jim Hitchcock, and Ben Baker taking the honors for the beards, and Nancy Bock, Jane Oka, and Elizabeth Ernst taking cheers for the ribbons.

The wheelbarrow race, volleyball, softball, hockey, and football games, and the mud brawl with the Soph-Frosh rivalry ended in the usual way. Sophs ended up with the most points. This hectic Frosh initiation concluded with the traditional dinner and dance sponsored by the Men's Club.

Field Day dance

The last mile

Alpha Gamma Sigma sponsored, Homecoming Day was termed a success by all. Queen Mary Gray with her court of four, reigned supreme over the day's activities. The queen's first official duty was the opening of the new student lounge. Chicken dinner at Berdell's, the San Jose State Frosh football game, and the dance finished the end of a perfect day for all concerned.

The 1951 squad of Hartnell College Panthers won three games and lost six games during the season. The early part of the season showed little success to the Panther squad and they proceeded to lose their first six contests. The Panthers opened their season by traveling to Modesto, where they lost to a powerful Modesto J.C. unit, 27-0. In their first home game, the Hart squad enjoyed a 21-0 halftime lead, only to succumb to the Placer J.C. team, 26-21. Playing their best ball of the early season, the Panthers lost a one-point decision to the Taft J.C. Cougars, 27-26. Back home again the Maroon and Gold was trounced by the classy Fresno J.C. outfit, and things really were looking bad for the team. "Ye Olde Gaboon" was recaptured by the Menlo J.C. Oaks when they proceeded to lash out a 30-7 victory over the fighting Hartnell eleven. Due to lack of experienced reserves, the Panthers fell victims to the East Contra Costa team in the late minutes of the game, 37-21. Homecoming Game saw the inspired Harts winning their first game from the San Jose State Reserves by a score of 20-18. College of Marin fell to the Panthers, who continued their newly-found winning streak by trouncing the Mariners, 43-12. Climax of the season came when Hartnell played a beautiful game while defeating our traditional rivals Monterey Peninsula College by coming back in the closing quarter and knocking out a 19-14 victory.

Winning 12 of the 19 practice tilts, which were played against exceptionally strong teams, the Panthers entered the conference race with high hopes. In league play the Harts won six and lost two encounters, losing the championship to the powerful five from College of Marin.

baseball

Although they did rather poorly in their practice games, the 1952 edition of the Hartnell baseball team opened its conference play by splitting a doubleheader with the College of Marin nine. Troubled with the lack of pitchers, the Harts nevertheless showed that they had the hitting power to overcome that weakness.

No annual such as La Reata can be published without the co-operation of many individuals who have aided the staff. Only with the assistance of President John B. Lemos, the faculty, and the office staff could the group pictures, which necessitated students leaving class, be taken.

To Hurl Swartz, who photographed the sophomores as well as several groups, goes our thanks. El Camino Press, printers and lithographers, were helpful with many suggestions. Covers are by the S. K. Smith Company of Los Angeles, and the binding is the work of Bookbinders Company, Los Angeles.

A special vote of thanks goes to our advisor, Mr. Johnston. This is the first year that he has served as yearbook advisor, and he has done an outstanding job. Thank you, Mr. Johnston.

To these and the many others who have helped the staff, we wish to extend our thanks.
